CONFLICTS

We would like to accommodate each and every conflict but that will more than likely be impossible, and you may have to make a choice. The running order for classes will be posted at each ring, each day. If you have a conflict, please ask the blind steward to put a "C" by your name. If you are not in at the ring when your blind is called, we will fill your space with someone that is present. When you are available to run, please check in and we will assign you to a new blind. We cannot guarantee you will run immediately upon checking in.

We will not hold a class if you are not present by the time the class ends, you will not be able to run your dog in that class for that trial. There are two trials each day but a missed run in trial one cannot be run in trial two.

We will verify all conflicts with the judging program of other events.
